

PRES. WILSON PROCLAIMS "RED CROSS WEEK" BEGINS MAY 20

BRAINERD-VERNDALE 6-7

STORM DOES MUCH DAMAGE SATURDAY

Big Barn of Wm. Hildebrandt Blown Down Three Miles South of Brainerd, House is Damaged

Stock Struck by Lightning in Fort Ripley---Trees Blown Down---Woman and Children Hurt in Accident

STORM DAMAGE SATURDAY
 $3,000 barn of William Hildebrandt wrecked, house damaged.
 Southeast Long Lake and South Long Lake telephone lines damaged.
 Shade trees blown down in Brainerd.
 At Verndale barn of George Beven blown down.
 At Fort Ripley lightning killed stock of John Richard.
 Mrs. Steve Tougas hurt when automobile collided with her buggy.

Accompanied by a burst of heavy rain, a strong wind storm raged from 9:30 to 10 P. M. Saturday night and did much damage. The Red Cross parade had been completed and people had filed out of the opera house where they attended the patriotic meeting when the storm burst in full strength.

Lights were out in Brainerd for a short period. Shade trees were blown down. J. C. Spillman's shed was blown down.

Traveling from southwest to northeast a big cloud with a long point to it passed through Crow Wing, South Long Lake and Oak Lawn townships. It was observed by Emil Hildebrandt.

The storm struck full force at the farm of his brother William Hildebrandt on the Thirteenth street road about three miles south of Brainerd. The wind blew in doors and windows at his residence, tore off boards from the roof and in the same instant smashed his $3,000 barn near the house. A brooder near by was blown to atoms, lumber scattering about the field and 100 dead chickens being cast about. Flying glass filled his house.

The roof of the barn broke in two as it fell on its side. Two horses within were drawn from a narrow space four feet high. Farmers from the countryside came in the blinding rain and helped haul out the horses by their hind legs, getting them clear from wreckage. One cow in the barn tore an iron stanchion from the cement floor where she was pinned down and ran into a field. Five other horses were not stabled that night or other cattle and so stock loss was reduced to a minimum.

In the residence the wind whipped a curtain stick out of a curtain and drove it into a plank. Out at the brooder every shred of wood was blown to pieces. The brooder stove rested on the cement floor undamaged. Considerable farm machinery was crushed. Mr. and Mrs. Hildebrandt are greatly obliged to the neighbors for prompt assistance and are thankful none of their family was hurt. Tornado insurance carried on the barn amounted to $1,500.

The home of Ed Girard was damaged. Trees were blown down at Jo Girard's place.

The Southeast Long Lake telephone line lost some twenty poles and had its line broken in various places.

SENATOR KENDRICK.

Wyoming senator who denounces packer's corporation as trust.

The meat packing industry as at present constituted was denounced as "a vicious system which stifles live stock raising, so vital in the prosecution of the war and in feeding our nation and our allies," in an address by United States Senator John B. Kendrick of Wyoming before the convention of the National Live Stock exchange in New York. The senator termed the packers' corporation "a trust" and said "we have got to root them out and when we have, every man will look back and wonder how we survived." Senator Kendrick is a ranch owner and cattleman, and is the first democrat to represent his state in the United States senate. He resigned the governorship to make the race against Senator Clark and won by 3,000 votes.

Brainerd lost Sunday 6 to 7 to Verndale in a game which displayed Brainerd tenacity, for the locals came out from under a heavy score administered by Verndale early in the first four innings and nearly tied the figures.

Brainerd was handicapped the first four innings, being without Benda. He joined in the fifth, succeeding Nelson, who had unfortunately made three errors.

Weather was cold and attendance was small. The teams played as hard as though it was a big league affair with a world series hanging on the results.

Verndale's first man up, Allen, got to first on an error and eventually scored.

Two runs were gained in the second inning, Dickinson and Pike trotting across the plate.

In the third Allen made first on an error and scored later.

The fourth inning netted Verndale three runs. Leneau gave two passes. Runs were made by Dickinson, Beven and Allen.

After that Verndale was on the defensive and Brainerd came to the front.

In the second inning Cook singled and scored later.

In the fourth frame Cook was given a pass. He scored later and Stallman also brought in a tally.

In the sixth came another pair. Gaskill made first on an error of first.

"Blue Devils" Leaving White House After Welcome by President

This photograph shows the "Blue Devils" of France leaving the White House after they had been welcomed to the United States by President Wilson. The president shook hands with every man in the line.

President Wilson issued a proclamation on May 7, designating the week beginning May 20th as "Red Cross Week," and appealing to the American people in the name of the American Red Cross, whose campaign for a second hundred million dollar war fund will be carried on during that week. The proclamation follows:

"Proclamation

"Inasmuch as the War Fund of 1917, so generously contributed by the American people to the American Red Cross for the administration of relief at home and abroad, has been practically exhausted by appropriations for the welfare of the men in our military and naval forces, and for those dependent upon them, and for the yet more urgent necessities of our allies, military and civilian, who have long borne the brunt of war;

"And, inasmuch as the year of our own participation in the war has brought unprecedented demands upon the patriotism and liberality of our people, and made evident the necessity of concentrating the work of relief in one main organization which can respond effectively and universally to the needs of humanity under stress of war;

"And, inasmuch as the duration of the war and the closer and closer cooperation of the American Red Cross with our own army and navy, with the governments of our allies, and with foreign relief organizations, have resulted in the discovery of rare opportunities of helpfulness under conditions which translate opportunity into duty;

"And, inasmuch as the American Red Cross War Council and its commissioners in Europe have faithfully and economically administered the people's trust;

"Now, therefore, by virtue of my authority as president of the United States and president of the American Red Cross, I, Woodrow Wilson, do hereby proclaim the week beginning May 20, 1918, as 'Red Cross Week' during which the people of the United States will be called upon to give generously to the continuation of the important work of relieving distress, restoring the waste of war and assisting in maintaining the morale of our own troops and the troops and peoples of our allies by this manifestation of effort and sacrifice on the part of those who, though not privileged to bear arms, are of one spirit, purpose, and determination with our warriors.

"In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

"Done in the District of Columbia, this 7th day of May, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and eighteen, and of the independence of the United States of America."

When the Hair Turns White.

Most people have seen the cheeks become pale with terror, but few have seen the hair turn white from the same cause, and the possibility of such a transformation has often been denied.
Yet it is a well-attested fact. Some years ago a Swiss mountaineer was rescued from a terrible situation into which he had inadvertently placed himself while hunting chamois—a narrow ledge on the face of a tremendous precipice, to which he had had to cling precipitously all night. So great had been the strain on his nerves that his hair had turned white during the darkness.

SHIPS BEING CHANGED

All Available Vessels Will Be

High Speed Engines Necessary to Make Them a Success Are Being Installed.

Washington, May 20—Whether originally intended so or not, every ship suitable for carrying troops to France will be fitted out with the necessary high speed engines to make it a transport.

The remark of President Wilson at the opening of the Red Cross drive in New York: "Why limit our army to 5,000,000 men?" was not so much an expression of hope as a reflection of preparation for a colossal army in France as quickly as ships can get them there.

The United States Shipping board, it was learned, has ordered every troop ship in every stage of construction rushed, and has given orders to change the program whenever possible to turn ships out as transports instead of cargo carriers.
That was the reason behind the board's request to the Navy department through General Goethals for some of the turbine engines made for the new destroyers. It was thought by Edward N. Hurley that the War department could get the transports its new army plan calls for by putting these high horsepower engines into suitable ships not now equipped for rushing troops to Europe.

Level-Headed People

When a person is reputed to be "level-headed" you can be reasonably sure that he has a savings pass book in constant action.

Level-headed people do not live each day unto itself;
they take thought of tomorrow, its emergencies, its possibilities.

They don't sit down and wait, unprepared for opportunity. They get ready for opportunity, then command it.

It is by being level-headed that people get on in the world. Sheer luck has little place in human progress. A plan precedes accomplishment.

Red Cross Play and Lunch at South Long Lake Yields $66.50 for Red Cross

The Red Cross play and lunch given at South Long Lake hall Saturday evening was very successful.

Miss Erickson's play, "Back to the Farm," was enjoyed by a large audience, but the storm was rather inopportune in its noise on the roof. The proceeds were $66.50 and will go to the Red Cross War Fund.

The auxiliary wishes to thank all who helped make it successful and especially Miss Erickson and her actors.

Constance Talmadge at the Best Theatre Today

"The Studio Girl," starring Constance Talmadge, is her third Select Star Series release and is an adaptation by Paul West of "La Gamine," by Pierre Veber and Henri de Gorsse, in which she was directed by Charles Biblby. It will be the feature attraction at the Best theatre today.

Frazer Ordway (Earle Foxe) comes to Cliff Haven, a tiny New England village to recuperate; in this town lives pretty Celia Laird (Constance Talmadge) with her maiden aunts, Harriet and Rachel Farnum (Isabel O'Madigan and Grace Barton.) Celia is engaged to Obadiah Daw (John Hines), the village lout but a good catch; she cares nothing for him but she is resigned to her fate, although chafing at her empty existence.

On the cliffs Celia comes upon Ordway sketching and they get into an animated conversation; in a week their acquaintance ripens into a warm friendship. Her aunts note this with alarm and hasten the wedding. On the appointed day, the artist leaves for New York and later discovers Celia in the tonneau; she has run away to escape the loveless marriage.

He puts her on a train supposedly bound for Cliff Haven, but when he gets to his apartment, he finds her curled up asleep in his armchair. He turns the apartment over to her and spends the night with his friend Dr. Grierson (Ferd Tidmarsh) to whom he confesses that his feelings toward his fiancée Adriana (Sena Earle) have grown cold, and that he is now in love with Celia.

Dr. Grierson loves Adriana himself and he tells her to telephone Ordway—she does and Celia answers the phone. Adriana suspects the worst, naturally, and telegraphs the Cliff Haven authorities of the young girl's whereabouts.

The village constables arrive to arrest the artist for abduction; at the same time Adriana comes to the apartment with the doctor—Frazer solves the double dilemma by marrying Celia. And everyone is happy except poor Obadiah; but let the Fates worry about him.

A quiet marriage service was held at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Presbyterian parsonage by the pastor, Rev. W. J. Lowrie, when Miss Louise Helma Hanson was joined in marriage to Fred Lyscio.

The bride wore a blue suit with hat to match. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. John Trettel. Mrs. Trettel wore plum colored taffeta. After the ceremony a bounteous wedding supper was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Trettel to the nearest relatives. The rooms were decorated beautifully to suit the occasion. The young couple left on the night train on an extended honeymoon trip to the coast.

The Blue Bird

Is there anything prettier in all nature than a blue-bird? He was not an accident, but is one of the results of the good Lord to beautify this old earth of ours. He spends the winter in the southern part of the U. S., and as far north as the snow line. We are all so familiar with him that he does not need a description. His song is a short, sweet continued warbling.

Years ago, before the advent of the English sparrow, bluebirds were very plentiful. Then natural conditions were much in their favor. I remember more than one old rail fence, in Pennsylvania, where the knot in the side of the rail would decay and drop out, and the bluebird found that an ideal home for himself and family. The orchards were not closely pruned or trimmed as today, and a hole in an apple or other fruit tree branch was just the home he wanted. But now we have substituted wire fences, or no fences, and as a result the bluebird must go elsewhere to find his nest, for he cannot build it on a wire or an imagination.

Don't some of you old-timers remember with great pleasure the Bell-fleurs, Golden Pippin, Maiden's Blush and other luscious apples we used to have, without a spot or blemish on them? Then we could buy them for ten cents a peck, but if we could get them now we would have to pay ten cents apiece for them. Did you know there was a strange connection with the disappearance of those good apples and the bluebird? One of the most harmful creatures to the orchard is a small insect which creeps up into the fruit trees late in the autumn and surrounds itself with a cocoon. He remains there until the apple tree begins to blossom in the spring, and then emerges and begins his devastation on the blossoms. That is the penalty we have to pay by not protecting the bluebird. Its food consists principally of the insect within these cocoons, eating hundreds of them daily.

Would you not like to cater to these beautiful birds? If so, put up boxes for them not over five feet from the ground. If you place them higher they will be occupied by the English sparrow. They soon become quite tame, and at home. If all lovers of this beautiful bird should assist him in finding a nest, within two or three years our fruit orchards would again be practically free from these insects. He will pay his rent many times by destroying injurious worms and insects.

He does not steal fruit and does not prey upon crops, 68 per cent of his food consists of insects, while 32 per cent is made up of various vegetable substances. Grasshoppers, bugs, beetles and caterpillars are on his bill of fare.

James Russell Lowell revealed his appreciation of the beautiful in his "Under the Willows," when he wrote "The bluebird, shifting his light load of song, From post to post along the cheerless fence, etc."

SCRAP OVER NEW THRONES

Row Among Princes Is Endangering German Unity.

Amsterdam, May 20.—The Berlin newspapers give indications that the prospect of new thrones in the East for German princes has stirred German court circles as seldom if ever before. The Socialist newspaper Vorwarts says that agents from the court are traveling hither and thither in efforts to make propaganda for or against the various families to which the honors might fall.

This scramble for thrones, Vorwarts fears, may endanger German unity. It therefore urges, probably in a spirit of irony, that a compromise be effected by filling the thrones with Turkish princes.

DEADLY IN ITS EARNESTNESS

Lincoln Steffens Tells of Experience With Mob at Petrograd Composed of Russian Vigilantes.

At the Chicago City club recently Lincoln Steffens told of his experience with a mob in Petrograd. He said:

"Some of us newspaper men were playing dominoes in our room one night when we heard a sound up the street. We knew the sound. No yells, no crying. Only the low roar of the shuffling of hundreds of roughshod feet on the pavement. And the blend of many voices.

"We went down and opened the door. The mob stopped. And there being no regular mob leader in sight we talked through an interpreter with the nearest people of the mob.

"Where are you going? we asked.

"We don't know," they answered. Faces solemn. Heads shaking like horses in the rain.

"What is the matter? was the second question.

"We don't know," was the answer. And still the faces were solemn and the heads shaking.

"Then why, oh, why, are you going up and down the streets of Petrograd in the nighttime like this? was the last question.

"We heard there was something wrong in Petrograd. There was a rumor. It said something was wrong in the city. We are looking for it. We are trying to find it."

London Official Statement Says German Attack Was on Unusually Large Scale.

DROP FOUR MACHINES

British Succeed in Bringing Down Several of the Attackers—Allies Bag Sixty-one Teuton Airplanes in Single Day.

London, May 20.—Shortly after 11 o'clock last night hostile airmen crossed the Essex and Kent coasts and proceeded towards London.

Four enemy airplanes were brought down, says an official communication just issued.

The communication says: "Reports show that four of the enemy airplanes which raided London and the Southeast last night have been brought down.

"The raid appears to have been on a very large scale. A considerable number of bombs were dropped.

"No details of casualties or damage are yet available."

Account for Sixty-one Foes.

London, May 20.—Sixty-one German airplanes were accounted for by the British and French yesterday—23 by the former and 38 by the latter. British and French raiding machines dropped 29 and 44 tons of bombs respectively, upon targets in and behind the German lines, a total of 73 tons of bombs.

The text of the British statement on aviation follows:

"The fine weather on Saturday enabled bombing raids, reconnoitering flights and photography work to be continued by our airplanes. The improved visibility made it possible to carry out more work in conjunction with the artillery than had been accomplished during the past days.

"The stations of Courtrai, Valenciennes, Roulers and Chaulnes were heavily bombed by us. Several of the enemy's airdromes, ammunition dumps and billets also were attacked. A total weight of more than 19 tons of bombs were dropped on these targets.

Fighting East of Lines.

"As on the previous days, the greater part of the fighting occurred well to the east of the lines. Twenty-one hostile machines were brought down and two others were driven out of control. Eight of our machines are missing."

French Down 38.

Paris, May 20.—Tonight's French official communique says that 38 enemy machines have been brought down in the past 24 hours and 44 tons of bombs were dropped in the enemy zone.

One German machine was brought down by an American anti-aircraft battery, the statement says.

The statement follows:

"On Friday and Saturday our pilots in numerous fights destroyed 12 enemy machines and four captive balloons. Twenty-three other enemy machines were brought down, seriously damaged, within the enemy lines. Three other hostile machines were brought down by our anti-aircraft gunfire, including one by an American battery."

ADVERTISING PRICES INCREASED

Because of the abnormal conditions now prevailing in the printing business due to the war, we are compelled to announce an increase in advertising rates. All printing and publishing costs have advanced from 50 per cent to over 100 per cent, beside which living expenses have steadily increased, as everyone knows.

Therefore, beginning with June 1, 1918, the rate for display advertising will be 20 cents per inch for the first insertion, and 15 cents an inch for each additional insertion, and 25 cents an inch for transient display advertising. This is a flat rate and covers all display advertising, with the exception that all existing contracts will be continued at the old rate until contract expires. Special rates will be made on long time contracts.

Locals and readers will be 7 cents per printed line each insertion.

All legal advertisements are to be at full legal rates, viz: 75 cents per folio for the first insertion and 35 cents per folio for each subsequent insertion.

Political advertising will be charged for at the same rate as legal advertising.

WHAT GERMANY WILL ASK

A German governor general for the United States, to exercise dictatorial powers under authority of the German general staff, has already been chosen by the Prussian military autocracy.

Under the pretext of collecting a $2,000,000,000 indemnity, America's part of a $5,000,000,000,000 indemnity to be exacted from the enemies of Germany as the price of peace, the governor general is to take charge of the revenues of the United States and in doing so will be in supreme command, says the Chicago Tribune.

This is the statement made by Fairfax Naulty, astronomer, inventor, scientist and traveler, who is now in Washington making speeches in behalf of the liberty loan. While he withholds the name, he gives as the source of his information a high official of the intelligence department of the British admiralty. Mr. Naulty has recently returned from abroad, has a son in the ranks and is himself trying to aid his country with suggestions for war devices and in such other ways as are possible to him.

Five thousand billions of dollars for tribute if Germany wins the war, he says, is to be exacted. The plan is to conquer the allies and to exact from the British empire $1,500,000,000,000; from France $1,000,000,000,000; from Italy $500,000,000,000, and the rest from the United States. To collect this tribute German armies of occupation are to be placed in the various countries. Austria as a sop, is to be associated with Prussia in Italy.

The Mittel Europa plan is camouflage to conceal the real purpose of Potsdam, says Mr. Naulty on the same authority. That plan is to round out the heart of the German empire by breaking through to the North Sea, taking possession of France, Belgium, Holland and Denmark, with control of the ports and the iron, coal and other mineral deposits of this region.

The present wealth of the United States and her co-belligerents is roughly $75,000,000,000. It was $325,000,000,000 twenty years ago. If the German plan were made operative it would require 200 years for 100,000,000 inhabitants, men, women and children, to wipe out the $2,000 tribute which would be the quota of each individual, and even then the debt would not be paid, for at 6 per cent, compounded, the debt would double every fourteen years.

Were the German plan successful, none of the nations involved could ever escape from the Pax Germanicus. The Germans would attempt in the 200 years of occupation to thoroughly Germanize the United States and the entente nations.

It has been proven that Germany chose a German governor general for India as far back as 1916.

WOULD BOYCOTT GERMANY

Senator Owen proposes that Germany be notified that the nations allied against her will boycott her for a year for every month that she continues the war. His proposal is that Germany, unless she overthrows her present militaristic government, shall not again be admitted into the family of nations; he would have them refuse to trade with her, refuse cable or financial transactions with her, and refuse to permit her ships to touch at any allied port. This would effectively cut her off from the sea and she would then find out what "the freedom of the seas," which she has so grossly abused, has really meant to her in the past. Without permission to call at allied ports, Germany's ships would rot in their harbors, says the Fergus Falls Journal.

For the past thirty years, we have been fairly surfeited with stories of the wonderful things that Germany was doing for the world; her manufactured articles have been held up as the acme of perfection; her social system has been lauded to the skies; we have been told that poverty and slums have been abolished, and that Germany was the model nation for the whole universe.

Since the war began, we have learned that this "puffing" has been the result of carefully planned propaganda; that it has been the work of German agents all over the world, paid by the German government to create this impression. "The easy going democratic nations, with a change of directing heads every few years and with no money to spend on publicity, have allowed Germany to fill the world with her spies and her propaganda, and to influence the thought of the growing generation everywhere in favor of the most cruel monarchy that the world has ever known.

We have learned since the war began that the world is not dependent on Germany; that we can get along very comfortably without her; that goods "made in the United States" are as good or better than goods "made in Germany." That even the few articles of which she has enjoyed a monopoly, can be produced here without any difficulty. We have also learned that the boasted social system of Germany is a sham and a fraud; that her workmen have been working longer hours than the workmen of any other civilized country, and have been living to a great extent in one and two room flats, put up under government direction. That they have been taxed as no other people have been taxed and that their boasted old age pension system was merely a scheme to tie a man to his job for life, by making him pay a part of his wages toward a pension fund, of which he would lose all benefit if he quit.

We have learned from the pen of Germany's own ambassador to England that Germany deliberately planned and brought on the war, after a generation of preparation and we all know of the inhuman barbarity with which she has conducted it.

The world has gotten along very comfortably without Germany for the past three and a half years and can get along very comfortably for years to come. Senator Owen's suggestion is a good one. Let the allied nations notify the German people that if they want to resume trade relations with the balance of the world they must rid themselves of the brutal rulers who have brought on the present appalling world catastrophe.

WAGING WAR TO SAVE THE WORLD

Red Cross Drive at New York Is Opened by President Wilson in Forceful Address.

BERLIN IS INSINCERE

United States Will Not Be Diverted From Its Purpose by Tricky Overtures for Peace and Will Send Enough Men to Win.

New York, May 20.—At a great rally in the Metropolitan opera house here, formally opening the National Red Cross drive for a fund of $100,000,000, President Wilson called upon America to make war to the limit of its manpower and resources.

Germany's peace moves he declared insincere and designed to give her a free hand for conquest and exploitation in the east.

"If any man in Germany thinks we are going to sacrifice anybody for our own sake," he said, "I tell them now they are mistaken."

"Our first duty is to win the war," the president asserted at the outset of his speech, "and the second duty is to win it greatly and worthily."

Why Limit to 5,000,000?

"I have heard gentlemen recently say that we must get 5,000,000 men ready. Why limit it to 5,000,000."

"I have asked congress to name no limit, because congress intends, I am sure, as we all intend, that every ship that can carry men or supplies shall go laden upon every voyage with every man and every supply she can carry. And we are not to be diverted from the grim purpose of winning the war by any insincere approaches upon the subject of peace."

"I can say with a clear conscience that I have tested those intimations and have found them insincere. I now recognize them for what they are, an opportunity to have a free hand, particularly in the east, to carry the purposes of conquest and exploitation."

"Every proposal with regard to accommodation in the west involves a reservation with regard to the east."

Will Sacrifice None.

"Now, so far as I am concerned, I intend to stand by Russia as well as France."

"The helpless and friendless are the very ones that need succor, and if any man in Germany thinks we are going to sacrifice anybody for our own sake, I tell them now they are mistaken. For the glory of this war, so far as we are concerned, is that it is, perhaps, for the first time in history, in an unselfish war. I could not be proud to fight for a selfish purpose, but I can be proud to fight for mankind. If they wish peace, let them come forward through accredited representatives and lay their terms on the table. We have laid ours and they know what they are."

May Show Character.

"But behind all this grim purpose lies the opportunity to demonstrate not only force, which will be demonstrated to the utmost, but the opportunity to demonstrate character and it is that opportunity that we have most conspicuously in the work of the Red Cross; not that our men in arms do not represent our character, for they do, and it is a character which those who see and realize, appreciate and admire; but their duty is the duty of force. The duty of the Red Cross is the duty of mercy and succor and friendship."

"Have you formed a picture in your imagination of what this war is doing for us and for the world? In my own mind I am convinced that not 100 years of peace could have knitted this nation together as this single year of war has; and better even than that, if possible, it is knitting the world together."

Day of Duty Comes.

"My friends, a great day of duty has come, and duty finds a man's soul as no kind of work can ever find it."

"May I say this? The duty that faces us all now is to serve one another, and no man can afford to make a fortune out of this war. There are men amongst us who have forgotten that, if they ever saw it. Some of you are old enough—I am old enough—to remember men who made fortunes out of the Civil war, and you know how they were regarded by their fellow citizens. That was a war to save one country—this is a war to save the world."

"And your relation to the Red Cross is one of the relations which will relieve you of the stigma. You can't give anything to the government of the United States; it won't accept it. There is a law of Congress against accepting even services without pay. The only thing that the government will accept is a loan, and duties per-

American Hospital Bombed.

With the American Armies in Picardy, May 20.—American physicians and nurses fled to the trenches for safety, carrying some of their patients, while their field hospital was being bombed by a German air plane. The boche dropped 12 bombs around the hospital, but his aim being poor, inflicted little damage. Slightly wounded patients, who were able to walk, also took refuge in the trenches.

formed; but it is a great deal better to give than to lend or to pay, and your great channel for giving is the American Red Cross.

"Down in your hearts you can't take very much satisfaction, in the last analysis, in lending money to the government of the United States because the interest you draw will burn your pockets; it is a commercial transaction, and some men have even dared to cavil at the rate of interest, not knowing the incidental commentary that constitutes upon their attitude."

"But when you give, something of your heart, something of your soul, something of yourself goes with the gift, particularly when it is given in such form that it never can come back by way of direct benefit to yourself. You know there is the old cynical definition of gratitude, as 'the lively expectation of favors to come.' No Favors to Come."

"Well, there is no expectation of favors to come in this kind of giving. These things are bestowed in order that the world may be a fitter place to live in; that men may be succored; that homes may be restored; that suffering may be relieved; that the face of the earth may have the blight of destruction taken away from it, and that wherever force goes, there shall go mercy and helpfulness."

"And when you give, give absolutely all that you can spare, and don't consider yourself liberal in the giving. If you give with self-adulation you are not giving at all, you are giving to your own vanity; but if you give until it hurts, then your heart blood goes into it."

Scope International.

"And think what we have here; we call it the American Red Cross, but it is merely a branch of that great international organization, which is not only recognized by the statutes of the world, but is recognized by international agreement and treaty as the recognized and accepted instrumentality of mercy and succor. And one of the deepest stains that rests on the reputation of the German army is that they have not respected the Red Cross."

"That goes to the root of the matter. They have not respected the instrumentality they themselves participated in setting up as the thing which no man was to touch, because it was the expression of common humanity."

Emblem of Christianity.

"We are members, by being members of the Red Cross, of a great fraternity and comradeship which extends all over the world, and this cross that these women here today is an emblem of Christianity itself."

Tribute to Women.

"It fills my imagination to think of the women all over this country who are busy tonight and every night and every day doing the work of the Red Cross, busy with a great eagerness to find out the most serviceable thing to do, busy with a forgetfulness of all the old frivolities of their social relationships, ready to curtail the duties of the household in order that they may contribute to this common work that all their hearts are engaged in, and in doing which their hearts become acquainted with each other."

Into One Family.

"When you think of this, you realize how the people of the United States are being drawn together into a great intimate family whose heart is being used for the service of the soldiers not only, but for the service of civilians, where they suffer and are lost in a maze of distresses and distractions."

Liberty's Servants.

"And you have this noble picture of justice and mercy as the two servants of Liberty."

"For only where men are free do they think the thoughts of comradeship; only where they are free do they think the thoughts of sympathy; only where they are free are they mutually helpful; only where they are free do they realize their comradeship in a common interest and common necessity."

"But after all, although there is no party purpose in it, he got it right as far as the word 'party' to make the whole world democratic in the sense of community interest and of purpose, and if you could read some of the touching dispatches which come through official channels—for even through these channels there come voices of humanity that are infinitely pathetic—if you could catch some of these voices that speak the utter longing of oppressed and helpless peoples all over the world to hear something like the 'Battle Hymn of the Republic,' to hear the feet of the great Hosts of Liberty going to set them free, to set their minds free, to set their lives free, to set their children free, you would know what comes into the heart of those who are trying to contribute all the brains and power they have to this great enterprise of liberty."

"I summon you to the comradeship. I summon you, in this next week, to say how much and how sincerely and how unanimously you sustain the heart of the world."

Father Pleads for Son.

Salt Lake City, Utah, May 20.—Dad de Weese, wealthy orchardist of Cannon City, Col., and collector for the Smithsonian institution, appeared before the board of pardons to appeal for the life of his son, Howard H. de Weese, sentenced to be shot May 24 for the murder of his wife. This is the first known effort De Weese, Sr., has made in behalf of his son, who was found guilty of one of the most brutal murders ever committed in Utah.

REPULSE SILENT RAID

Americans Inflict Heavy Losses on German Force.

Enemy Fails in Attempt to Make Surprise Attack and Is Beaten Back in Hand to Hand Fight.

With the American Army in France, May 20.—A vigorous silent raid on one of the American combat groups in the Lunerville sector was attempted by the Germans, but they met with defeat.

The raid was a complete failure and cost the enemy considerable losses. None of the Americans are missing. The fight was carried on with hand grenades, rifles and revolvers and it was virtually hand to hand. The Germans beat a hasty retreat after 10 minutes, carrying dead and wounded with them. One dead German, however, was left behind.

The scene of the encounter was about a mile and a half northwest of Breneuil.

Prisoners taken recently are all under 20 years of age. Committees have been appointed for the joint observance of Memorial day.

ARE MENACING PETROGRAD

Germans Occupy Island Giving Road to the Defenses.

London, May 20.—German forces, apparently those acting in conjunction with the White Guard in Finland, have captured the island of Bjorko, which menaces Petrograd. Possession of the island will give them a commanding position to take the capital, as it is only thirty miles northwest of Petrograd, and due south of Viborg, Finland. It is of strategic importance for operations against the fortress of Kronstadt, commanding the defenses of the capital.

According to the dispatch received regarding the occupation of the island, land forces alone took possession, on mention being made of naval operations in that far up corner of the gulf.

CAMPAIGN IN EAST AFRICA

British Defeat Germans in Battle Lasting All Day.

London, May 20.—British troops campaigning against the German East Africa forces have won another success, after heavy fighting and inflicted heavy losses on the Germans. It is officially announced.

The engagement began when a small body of British African riflemen surprised an important German camp and set the huts on fire. The Germans counter attacked and the British force fell back, fighting heavily all day long. Before the day was over, however, the British rallied their forces and the fighting ended with the defeat of the Germans, who sustained heavy losses.

May Insist on Tax Boost.

Washington, May 20.—Despite smoldering opposition in Congress to any more revenue legislation at the present session, the impression is growing that the administration will insist on it none the less. The question will be determined finally after Secretary McAdoo confers Monday with Senator Simmons and Representative Kitchin. A tax bill providing high rates on incomes and excess profits is being drafted by members of the House Ways and Means committee.

WOMAN'S STATEMENT WILL HELP BRAINERD

"I hated cooking because whatever I ate gave me sour stomach and a bloated feeling. I drank hot water and olive oil by the gallon. Nothing helped until I tried simple Buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., and mixed in Ad-ler-ka." Because it flushes the ENTIRE bowel tract completely Ad-ler-ka relieves ANY CASE sour stomach, gas or constipation and prevents appendicitis. The INSTANT action is surprising. Johnson's Pharmacy.

Sunday evening at the Methodist church occurred a very impressive service. The pastor, Rev. F. W. Hill, delivered a helpful and practical sermon to the graduating class on the subject "The Secret of True Success," II Chron. 31:20-21. Twenty-two from the catechism class and four from the Christian Doctrine class received their diplomas.

The superintendent of the Bible school, H. F. Michael, made a brief but pertinent presentation speech and presented the diplomas. The classes have been studying for over eight months and have done excellent work. The names of the graduates are as follows:

Next Friday evening in the social rooms of the church the class will enjoy a banquet which will be served at 6 o'clock after which the evening will be spent in playing games and having a pleasant evening. The class was also received into full membership in the church at the close of the services Sunday evening. A large audience was present to witness the young folks take this most important step. Heartly congratulations by parents and friends brought these exercises to a very happy conclusion.

The South Long Lake line had poles down in different places.

At the Sutton corner, known throughout the county as the nine-mail-box corner, a large tree was hurled down and put most of the boxes out of commission.

As Mrs. Steve Tougas drove home on the Thirteenth street road near Betzold's, she was struck by an automobile which carried Brainerd people, she asserts. She had her horse and buggy well on the right side of the road, as farmers always give cars a lot of leeway at night. The car struck her buggy and tore off a wheel and she and the children were thrown into the ditch in the storm and her sugar and other groceries scattered to the four winds. The car never stopped on its way to Brainerd and she had to make her way in the storm with her little ones a half mile for shelter.

At Fort Ripley John Richard suffered heavy losses. Lightning killed his brood sow, seven little pigs and three cows.

At Verndale the wind blew down the barn of George Beven located about a mile south of town.

KILLS SETTLER AT PINE RIVER

The storm of Saturday night in addition to doing damage at Brainerd, Fort Ripley, South Long Lake, Verndale, killed a new settler on the Anton Haugen farm near Pine River, injured his daughter and blew down house and barn.

The silo and barn of Emil Grovdahl near Jenkins was blown down. The lodge hall at Hackensack was wrecked. The hall was generally used for dances.

At Jenkins sheds were blown down.

In the eighth Gaskill walked, later stole third and stole home, as Caron made first on a fielder's choice.

In the ninth Gustafson replaced Leneau as last man to bat and knocked out a high fly which was grabbed by Left Fielder Beven. Verndale's outfield excelled in brilliant running catches, spearing many drives which looked like safe ones. They raked in ten, some of the hard line drive variety.

Following the parade there was a patriotic meeting at the opera house presided over by Mayor R. A. Belse. The speakers were Major John D. Yost, recruiting officer for the Minnesota district; A. D. Farrington of Duluth; Corporal Harry A. Welcome, wounded trooper just back from service in Europe.

Major Yost told how Minnesota had risen from a minor position to front rank as a recruiting district, excelling in March the San Francisco district. He begged for the co-operation of Brainerd citizens to roll up a good quota in Minnesota and for all to assist the local recruiting committee.

A. D. Farrington of Duluth gave a patriotic address and scored the Prussians' military machine and their atrocities. "America must end this war," said the speaker.

Corporal Harry A. Welcome gave an inspiring appeal to all present to support the army at the front. He told of personal experiences in German barracks, at listening posts and in "No Man's Land." He told of training and marching, fighting, etc. One man wounded beyond recovery when asked what message he had for home said simply: "I'm game."

He showed the gas masks of the American army and one of the French and put them on.

Every seat in the opera-house was taken and it was thought for a time that an overflow meeting would be necessary.

At 10 o'clock the community dance was given and attracted many. Electric lights flickered out for a period, but the big gas light at the head of the stairs at Gardner hall furnished light and the ticket sellers were busy. A neat sum was realized for the Red Cross.

DRINK HOT WATER BEFORE BREAKFAST

Says you really feel clean, sweet and fresh inside, and are seldom ill.

If you are accustomed to wake up with a coated tongue, foul breath or a dull, dizzy headache; or, if your meals sour and turn into gas and acids, you have a real surprise awaiting you.

To-morrow morning, immediately upon arising, drink a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is intended to first neutralize and then wash out of your stomach, liver, kidneys and thirty feet of intestines all the indigestible waste, poisons, sour bile and toxins, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal.

Those subject to sick headaches, backache, bilious attacks, constipation or any form of stomach trouble, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store and begin enjoying this morning inside-bath. It is said that men and women who try this become enthusiastic and keep it up daily. It is a splendid health measure for it is more important to keep clean and pure on the inside than on the outside, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing disease, while the bowel pores do.

The principle of bathing inside is not new, as millions of people practice it. Just as hot water and soap cleanse, purify and freshen the skin, so hot water and a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Limestone phosphate is an inexpensive white powder and almost tasteless.

an ocean of unspeakable pain"*

WE'LL WIN

What does it mean to you to know that your American Red Cross:

Is supporting 50,000 French children.
Sends supplies to 3,423 French military hospitals.
Provides 2,000 French hospitals with surgical dressings.
Is operating thirty canteens at the front line.
Is operating six other canteens at French railway junctions, serving 30,000 French soldiers a day.
Operates a movable hospital in four units, accommodating 1,000 men.
Is operating a children's refuge in one part of the war zone; and in another a medical center, and traveling dispensary, both capable of accommodating more than 2,000 children.
Has opened a long chain of warehouses stocked with hospital supplies, food, soldiers' comforts, tobacco, blankets, etc., all the way from the seaboard to the Swiss frontier.
Has warehouse capacity for 100,000 tons.
Has 400 motor cars and operates 7 garages, making all repairs.
Had shipped 46 freight car loads of assorted supplies to Italy from France within two weeks after it began operating in the former country.
Had a battery of motor ambulances at the Piave front four days after the United States declared war on Austria.
Started a thousand different activities in Italy at the time that nation was in its most critical condition.
Has established 5 hospitals in England and operates a workshop for hospital supplies employing 2,000 women.
And that 120,000 cases of supplies have been received at the Paris headquarters of the American Red Cross from your various chapters scattered throughout the United States.

What does all this mean to you? And that is but a fraction of the work your Red Cross has done and is doing. It means that without this ceaseless, heroic work of the American Red Cross we could never win this war.

Without your Red Cross quick, vital help to keep Italy in the fight for Liberty would not have been possible.

Without your Red Cross thousands of French soldiers now gallantly fighting for you at the front would have died of wounds, exposure and lack of food.

And great and wonderful as has been the work of the American Red Cross in the past, still greater and more wonderful must it be in the future—for now your boy is in the fight.

Your Red Cross cannot neglect France, England, Italy, Serbia, Roumania and little Belgium. It must give them all constantly increasing help, for the men of these countries have been fighting our battles.

But now we must all redouble our efforts and sacrifices for our Red Cross because a million mothers' sons are going to carry the stars and stripes to the greatest victory God has ever given to men fighting for honor and liberty.

With the help of your Red Cross your boy will win.
